The "San Zenone" estate is a manor house that dates back to the 1700s surrounded by a flower garden. Typical noble structure of the Lombard countryside, a truly old-fashioned atmosphere that extends over 1500 square meters. The structure is horseshoe-shaped, distributed over two floors with porches and covered areas once reserved for the shelter of horses and work tools. Large living rooms, period wooden ceilings, marble floors, stained glass windows, bathrooms, bedrooms, spaces to be dedicated to study or music. The rooms are refined preserving that bucolic taste of the pleasure of living surrounded by large green spaces.

The views offer contemplative glimpse of nature. Today, the structure lends itself to different interpretations; Certainly an excellent context to be used as places reserved for hospitality or private residence.

Annexes: 250 sqm Farmhouse on two levels with porches (Included); Historic annex building 900sqm to be restored (Price to be negotiated)
